SPRING IS HERE!

We saw our first robin this week—and he was singing a lusty song. It sounded great! No depression with him! He'll set up house-keeping soon.

Spring is a wonderful season. Things move! We like it! On our toes every minute and ready to be of service to you—

What do you say?

VANGUARD. The Vanguard of a new hardy strain, resulting from the union of the Rugosa from northern China and the Pernetiana from southern France, an accomplishment vainly sought for 20 years. Large full bloom, orange salmon, reminding one of the bloom of Miss Lolita Armour. The plant is very vigorous, with a most handsome large foliage, light green, shining in the sun as if shellaced. Extremely hardy and superb as a specimen plant, where it stands like a "vanguard," or in the shrubbery border; also suited for hedges.....

1800 rc Anchusa myosotidiflora. This is a relatively new perennial entirely unlike the Anchusas formerly offered. It has large, rough, heart-shaped leaves arising directly from the ground. Blooms in early spring and continues to produce sprays of charming forget-me-not-like flowers for many weeks. It is an ideal ground-cover plant for shady places, particularly under deciduous trees. We know of nothing that is more useful or more beautiful than this Anchusa when combined with narcissus or daffodils in landscape use. It is a much more dependable plant than Mertensia virginica, which has heretofore been the popular companion for these early bulbs. After the flowers fade, the leaves remain green and attractive throughout the entire season and collapse only with the frost of autumn. In our opinion, this is one of the most valuable perennials ever introduced .....

600 c Anemone hupehensis. This is a sturdy, dwarf Anemone, growing 1½ to 2 feet high, and resembling the Japanese Anemone in many respects, but it blooms earlier, is not so tall, and is much more richly colored. It is a fine plant for rock-garden use and comes into bloom in early August and continues until frost. It will succeed in half-shady places.....

c ARTEMISIA (Sage-Brush)
225	c Artemisia, Silver King. This is a well-known plant, but is so good and so desirable, both for border use and for cutting, that we feel it deserves special mention in this section. It has an erect, spire-like habit, with fine silver-gray foliage, which combines well with almost any flowers that can be planted with it. Beginning about the last of June, it is in excellent condition to be cut until late autumn. It dries perfectly and may be kept indefinitely through the winter. This is a superb florists' plant, and makes a good contrasting white accent in garden plants.....	1.25	10.00

c HOLLYHOCKS, Double, Named Varieties. The varieties which follow were located in a European nursery by one of our plant scouts a year or so ago. He was so impressed with the vigor of the plants and the beauty of the flowers in form and coloring that we imported the entire collection. These Hollyhocks have won many awards in European shows and have created a real sensation wherever shown. One of the most interesting things about them is that they may be cut and kept for several days, a fact which cannot be said of the ordinary varieties. They are especially effective in mass planting for garden effect.

Moss or Mountain Pinks

An early spring-flowering type with beautiful moss-like evergreen foliage, which during the months of April and May is hidden under the masses of bloom. Fine plant for the rockery, border, and invaluable for covering graves or where a carpet of flowers is wanted. Because of its earliness to flower, it needs to be in every rock-garden.

STATEMENT OF INSPECTION FOR TRUENESS TO NAME 1931
Amherst, Mass., August 7, 1931

To Whom It May Concern:

I have examined for trueness to name all salable Apple stock now growing in the nurseries of Jackson & Perkins Company, Newark, New York, and I now declare that to the best of my knowledge and belief these trees are true to variety name as they stand in the nursery rows.

(Signed) A. P. French
